REFERENCES FROM VIP GUESTS

“Caspian Construction Week” continues to grow in significance for both local and international participants. The exhibition showcases advanced technologies and cutting-edge innovative solutions, serves as a platform for discussing joint projects and partnership opportunities, and creates new prospects aimed at supporting the region’s socio-economic development. For many years, this event has not only highlighted Azerbaijan’s achievements to the global community but has also strengthened our country’s position as a regional hub for investment, technology, and innovation.

Ilham Aliyev

President of the Republic of Azerbaijan

Eldar Azizov

Head of
Baku City Executive Authority

Events such as “Caspian Construction Week” provide a fertile environment for shaping modern approaches in urban planning, construction, and restoration, facilitating the adoption of advanced technologies and the implementation of new ideas. At the same time, these exhibitions create conditions for knowledge and experience sharing among professionals, as well as for establishing forward-looking cooperation opportunities.

Anar Guliyev

Chairman of the State Committee on Urban Planning and Architecture of the Republic of Azerbaijan

Two major international events that hold an important place in Azerbaijan’s construction and urban development landscape are celebrating their anniversaries this year. “BakuBuild,” the Azerbaijan International Construction Exhibition, has for 30 years served as one of the leading platforms reflecting the dynamic growth and modern trends of the construction industry. “Rebuild Karabakh,” the Azerbaijan International Restoration, Reconstruction and Development Exhibition for Karabakh, has for the past five years played a strategic role in bringing the reconstruction of Karabakh and East Zangezur onto the international agenda and enabling this process to be implemented through partnership and innovation. I am confident that “Caspian Construction Week,” with its extensive experience and targeted activities, will continue to make significant contributions to fostering urbanization processes in the region and expanding international partnerships.

Elkhan Bashirov

Chairman of the Supervisory Board of MATANAT A Group of Companies,
Chairman of the Azerbaijan Construction
Materials Manufacturers Association
(ATMIA)

“Caspian Construction Week” has played an important role in the development of our country’s construction industry, creating broad opportunities for establishing strong cooperation between local and international companies, introducing new technologies, innovative solutions, and new products. It has become a platform that strengthens business relations, facilitates the exchange of experience, and helps shape the future of the construction sector. For members of the Azerbaijan Building Materials Manufacturers Association (ATMIA), which represents companies operating in the building materials sector, showcasing their products within the exhibition framework demonstrates the strength of the local market and expands export opportunities.

At this year's exhibition, Italy is represented by 15 stands, and we are proud to be among them. When we first learned about the event in Baku, we were immediately intrigued. We began by studying the country, the market, and the level of construction, and quickly realized that there are tremendous opportunities to present our products here. We see how rapidly the country is developing, with new projects emerging every day, and this gives a deeper meaning to our presence here. We are proud to be part of this major event – presenting products that embody beauty and innovation, inspiring visitors, and building creative connections. This experience reinforces our belief that Italian technologies and style can harmoniously integrate with the ambitious architectural projects of Azerbaijan.

We have been participating in the Baku International Construction Exhibition – BakuBuild for more than ten years. During this time, we have built close partnerships with Azerbaijani companies, architects, and developers, successfully implementing several significant projects together. We are witnessing the rapid growth of Azerbaijan's construction sector – the increasing attention to energy efficiency, modern architectural solutions, and high quality. This progress truly inspires us to return here year after year. Each participation in the exhibition brings us new ideas, contacts, and opportunities. We are pleased to note that BakuBuild has evolved from a traditional exhibition into an effective platform for interaction between manufacturers, distributors, contractors, and clients. It is a space where future projects are born and where one can truly feel the pulse of the region's construction industry. We are very satisfied with the results – every year, not only the number of our partners grows, but also the interest in our products. This is even reflected in the size of our stand, which has become a symbol of trust and stability.

Aydan Nesrullazade

Manager,
DABOYE CO., LTD,

This is our first time visiting Azerbaijan and participating in this exhibition, and the experience has been extremely positive. Our booth has attracted a large number of visitors, and we are very pleased with the interest shown by both individual guests and company representatives. Overall, our impression of the exhibition is extremely positive. The organization is professional, the visitor turnout is impressive, and the engagement with our products has been excellent. We are optimistic that this first participation will mark the beginning of fruitful collaborations between Daboye Co., Ltd and local businesses in Azerbaijan.

Sultonkhon Kholmukhamedov

Head of Export Department,
"Uzeltexsanoat"
Association,

This is our second year participating in this exhibition. The positive experience we had last year encouraged us to return again. We were welcomed in Azerbaijan with great warmth and genuine brotherly hospitality. The same sincere atmosphere prevails at the current exhibition as well, and visitor interest is remarkably high. There is a dynamic and positive environment throughout the pavilion, and everything is organized at a very high level. We aim to make the most of this platform, exchange experience, and further strengthen cooperation between Uzbek and Azerbaijani companies.

One of the major advantages of this exhibition is the opportunity to learn about technologies and innovations you may not have been aware of before. Exhibitions like this help such companies discover specialized, professional providers, which contribute to higher quality and safety standards in the industry.

Elkhan Mahmudov

Sales Director,
AS Motors LLC

This is our second year participating in the exhibition. Following last year's participation, we achieved remarkable results — we established contacts and began cooperation with several major organizations and companies. Participation in the exhibition has also contributed to expanding our customer portfolio and increasing brand visibility. Visitors noted that our presence demonstrated the company's growth and professional maturity.

Anastasiya Zaletova

Advisor,
Car Detection Solutions

The Baku exhibition has greatly impressed us with its scale and level of organization. It is especially valuable that our stand is located near potential partners and clients. Interest in our products is strong — students, industry professionals, and representatives of state institutions have all visited our stand. We hope these interactions will lead to real joint projects aimed at improving road safety.

Our activity is generally focused on the construction sector – we work in interior and exterior design, as well as residential construction. The products showcased here – whether façade systems, window models, or paints – are all very interesting. The exhibition was engaging, comprehensive, and well-attended. We also established new contacts, and will most likely begin cooperating with some of these companies. Overall, the exhibition exceeded my expectations – it was both useful and inspiring.

Mammadagha Mehdiyev
Architect

Every year I visit the construction exhibition in search of new ideas, projects, and modern innovations. Such events are also extremely important for building valuable business connections. My spouse and I are both architects, and we have been visiting this exhibition for many years because we know that we will gain at least two or three new professional contacts each time. This consistently leads to new collaborations and interesting projects.

Emin Aliyev

I frequently participate in exhibitions around the world, which gives me the opportunity to make objective comparisons. Our exhibition may be smaller in scale compared to major events in China, Türkiye, or Europe, but in terms of business atmosphere, content, and the professionalism of participants, it certainly does not fall behind. For me, every exhibition is an opportunity to engage directly with manufacturers, company leaders, and specialists, to see the products firsthand, and to assess their quality. This exhibition provided all of these experiences and connections.

In face-to-face meetings, you can also assess the manufacturer's sincerity and uncover product features that are not disclosed online. That is why exhibitions are absolutely necessary. Additionally, exhibitions force participants to dedicate time to product search — in normal work life, we rarely spend an hour solely exploring new products, but at the exhibition, we inevitably encounter something new.

Khalid Musayev

Organiser of road safety training sessions for children and pedestrians in Amirjan settlement

The exhibition once again demonstrated its relevance and necessity. As in previous years, the large volume of information presented here is already being applied in everyday life.

Veronika Bezlepkina

Group Leader, Customer Service and Pricing Department, Cargonyx LLC

We're grateful for this platform where we can explore innovations, learn about local and international markets, and present our own services. It's always effective and rewarding for us.

Emin Aliyev

Director,
LindPro LLC

For me, any exhibition is always an opportunity for direct contact with manufacturers, company managers, and specialists, as well as to see the products firsthand and evaluate their quality. At this exhibition, I experienced all these interactions and connections.

During the exhibition, bilateral business meetings were organized, providing additional opportunities for negotiations with several key clients. International and local manufacturers, distributors, and representatives of retail chains took part in the meetings. A total of 132 business meetings were held.
